David is an advocate providing specialised advice in relation to business restructuring and insolvency in contentious, non-contentious and multi-jurisdictional matters.

In his time with Carey Olsen David has been involved in many of the largest insolvencies involving Guernsey entities, ranging from investment funds to global retailers. He has advised on both the restructuring and formal insolvency of structures subject to complex commercial mortgage backed security packages and is able to assist lenders with enforcement advice in respect of all forms of security. David regularly advises the boards of distressed entities and has extensive experience acting for office holders.

Additionally, David has varied contentious insolvency experience including advising clients subject to claims by insolvency office holders appointed as a result of the collapse of the Madoff Ponzi Scheme. He has acted in numerous applications for urgent, injunctive relief and in relation to cross-border issues.

Notable matters include advising in relation to the administrations of the philatelic investment business Stanley Gibbons (Guernsey) Limited, The Long Port Group and HMV Group plc; the first ever discharge of an administration order over a PCC to facilitate voluntary winding up; and the restructuring and enforcement of a number of high value, multi-jurisdictional, non-performing loan portfolios on behalf of hedge fund acquirers.

David is a member of the Insolvency Lawyers Associations, R3 and INSOL and has delivered seminars for both professional organisations and clients. He sits on the working group tasked with updating and revising Guernsey's insolvency laws.

Career

David qualified as a Solicitor of the Senior Courts of England and Wales in 2004. He was called to the Guernsey Bar in 2014. He is a member of the Insolvency Lawyers Association and R3. He was made a partner at Carey Olsen in January 2019.
