Advantages of Jersey

Jersey is an increasingly popular choice of jurisdiction for fund managers who wish to either relocate key principals or otherwise establish a physical presence to benefit from neutrality and certainty from both a political and tax perspective. The Island also offers highly developed infrastructure, a familiar legal system, an established and internationally recognised regulatory framework and a very high quality of life for those individuals who do wish to relocate.

We have extensive experience in assisting both established and emerging fund management companies relocate part or all of their business to Jersey. We are legal advisers to five of the largest hedge fund managers with offshore headquarters: BlueCrest, Brevan Howard, Systematica, Rokos and Autonomy, a clear reflection of the high regard in which our practice is held. We also advise many of Europe's leading private equity and debt fund managers who maintain either regulated GP or full substance management operations in the Island.

At Carey Olsen, we always look at the bigger picture. In the face of opportunities or challenges, our clients know that the advice and guidance they receive from us will be based on a complete understanding of their goals and objectives combined with outstanding client service, technical excellence and commercial insight.

BIGGER PICTURE

The main benefits for a manager to establish a presence in Jersey are:

Taxation

- A fund management company relocating to Jersey is subject to a rate of Jersey income tax of zero percent. Jersey limited partnerships can also be used as management vehicles and these are recognised as tax transparent in most relevant jurisdictions.
- Neither Jersey companies carrying on fund management nor individuals resident in Jersey receiving capital distributions from such companies (or carried interest in limited partnerships) are subject to any form of capital gains taxes.
- The maximum rate of income tax for individuals in Jersey is 20% on their worldwide income. There are no personal capital gains, inheritance, gift or other 'wealth' taxes in Jersey.
- Under the Island's "High Value Residency" scheme, an individual relocating to Jersey is able to reduce their tax liability to 20% on the first £1,250,000 of worldwide income and 1% on other worldwide income, provided they can demonstrate they will be able to contribute at least £250,000 per year in personal income tax payments, that their annual worldwide income is comfortably in excess of £1,250,000 per year and that they have a personal wealth of more than £10million in assets (excluding main residence and subject to liquidity). Any income earned from land and buildings in Jersey, or dividends paid from a company in receipt of Jersey property income, will be taxed at 20%.

Our tax team is happy to work with appointed onshore or offshore tax advisers to advise a on the tax implications of relocating an investment management company to Jersey.

Regulation

Jersey is committed to the highest standards of financial regulation. This has been acknowledged following independent assessments by some of the world's leading bodies, including the OECD, IMF and the EU. In summary:

- If the manager is managing only "private funds" (i.e. less than 50 investors/formal offers) and each fund obtains approval as a "Jersey Private Fund" (48 hour turnaround), then the manager will not be required to be regulated in Jersey unless the fund is marketed into the EU.
- If the manager is managing "public funds" (i.e. over 50 investors/formal offers) then it will require a "fund services business" licence from the Island's regulator, the Jersey Financial Services Commission (the "JFSC"). Approval typically takes 6 weeks from the date the application is submitted.

- A fund management company seeking to avoid significant initial expenditure on back office support can take advantage of the JFSC's "managed entity" regime, whereby a locally regulated administrator provides regulatory and compliance support. An added advantage of this regime is that, provided the relevant funds meet certain criteria, the management company is subject to a reduced regulatory capital requirement.
- If a regulated Jersey hedge-fund manager operates any managed accounts alongside its main fund strategies, it will be able to take advantage of Jersey's "Qualifying Segregated Managed Accounts" regulations which remove the need to comply with any additional regulatory requirements.

EU market access

Jersey is outside the EU so a fund manager based on the Island is not subject to all the onerous provisions of AIFMD (such as the remuneration disclosure rules), but can still market to EU based investors under individual Member States' national private placement regimes.

Jersey is on the list of the first non-EU jurisdictions to receive the AIFMD "passport". When this becomes available, Jersey managers will be able to "opt in" for full AIFMD compliance.

Lifestyle

Jersey offers an outstanding quality of life. With countless clean, sandy beaches and numerous smaller bays, there are 48 miles of Jersey coastline to explore. Harbours and inlets punctuate the coast and the bathing waters are among the cleanest in Europe.

The Island is well served for schools, having both selective and non-selective fee-paying States and private schools. With modern facilities and low pupil-teacher ratios, Jersey students consistently outperform their mainland counterparts.

Sport plays a huge part in Island life, and the high quality facilities include: six golf courses, an array of water sports, a 96-mile cycling network and all types of walking terrain suitable for every age and ability, football and rugby clubs, a number of equestrian centres and a world class shooting range.

The Island is a yachtsman's paradise, offering some of the best cruising waters in the world and easy access to France and the other Channel Islands with secret anchorages, modern marinas, traditional harbours and many bays.

Connectivity and infrastructure

There are frequent flights between Jersey and London every day and with journey times of less than an hour it is possible to live in Jersey and attend morning meetings in the City. There are also scheduled flights between more than 20 UK regional airports and several major European centres.

Jersey has long been home to a substantial alternative fund management industry and has a large number of experienced service providers and professionals across accounting, administration, depositary services, governance, legal, fund management operations and tax services.

Jersey fund products

A Jersey based fund manager is of course able to continue to manage funds which are domiciled in other jurisdictions. However, for any new funds which the manager launches may wish to use Jersey as the fund domicile to reduce costs and increase efficiencies by having the manager and the fund in the same jurisdiction. The two principal Jersey regulatory regimes are:

- the Jersey Private Fund
- the Jersey Expert Fund
